(Fellows name) _____ was identified for a 2019 DOE Computational Science Graduate Fellowship (DOE CSGF) award. This fellowship will include the following financial contributions to the fellow and your university:

1. Full payment of tuition and required fees for a maximum of 48 months. The award must be renewed annually and is subject to continued availability of funds.
2. An annual stipend of $37,000 payable directly to the fellow on a monthly basis.
3. An "academic allowance" of $5,000 to support the fellow's professional development the first year of the program with $1,000 for the following three renewed years. The academic allowance is paid to the program's university coordinator for the fellow's use. [The university coordinator provides an accounting of expenses on an annual basis.] These funds can be used for purchase of a computer workstation and/or laptop (not to exceed $4,950) for the use by the fellow during their doctoral tenure and for professional development expenses. At the conclusion of the fellowship, the computer is considered the fellow's property. All workstation purchases must be approved by the program in advance.

As noted in our earlier communications, for a student to qualify for the DOE CSGF award, their department must return this form and certify that either:

1. No more than one term of teaching, grading or other departmental support activities are required of students, or
2. If such requirements exist, they will be waived for the DOE CSGF awardees during the period of fellowship support.

As Department Chairperson, I certify that (Fellows name) _____ will not be required to teach, grade, or perform other departmental support activities for more than one term during the tenure of the DOE CSGF award.
